Elite Asylum

Dear colleagues,

We thank you for your attention on the sensitive matter of elite asylum. Let us begin by recapitulating the relevant facts and events. One month ago, we put the world on notice, regarding the state of global affairs, the direction of the Nobility International, and their implications for the international community. We further announced an asylum program for those heroic patriots within the Washington establishment who choose to cooperate with the New Regime in bringing traitors and perverts to justice; we will elaborate on this topic.

In our statement, we emphasized the point that the United States of America, under the administration of the current Washington establishment, is in terminal decline. American security is only of a limited benefit to Europe when it is in a state of deterioration. In the long term, there is no way forward for Europe without security independence and its own military. The Nobility International is fully committed to supporting brotherly Europe in this endeavor.

Europe is undergoing a period of great cultural, economic, and financial difficulty. Since February, Ukrainians have been shot to death on a daily basis. Mothers have lost sons, wives have lost husbands, and children have lost fathers. The tears of Ukrainian women will hydrate Europe's bread basket long after the war is over. Those responsible for this tragedy must answer for it whether they are Russians or Americans. Indeed, this statement will offend certain Westerners. However, it is the Ukrainian people who should take offense to American treason, since it is they who are paying the price of America's culpability in the violent escalation in tensions with Russia. This point has been communicated to the European Union and key member states.

We further highlighted the crisis of American illegitimacy. The United States government has officially lost its legitimacy among a simple majority of the American public. The current Washington establishment is now hanging on to power with the threat of armed violence and politically motivated legal prosecution. America is a country with a tremendous potential for greatness, but the Washington establishment has made it eminently clear that they have neither the moral will nor the competence to deliver. A collapse of America will come at the expense of the American public and our European brethren; it will be a tragedy which causes a tremendous degree of suffering and it is something which must not happen.

We remind our colleagues that when the gun is the only thing keeping someone in power, it is only matter of “when” and not “if” he will lose it. President Putin learned this lesson from his experience of the Soviet collapse, hence his prediction of a “change of elites”, in the West. Thus, the coming decade will be pivotal to European history. American elections will cease to be about left vs right, Democrat vs Republican politics. A much simpler choice is now emerging: the New Regime or the Washington establishment. Either the Washington establishment will cling to power until the bitter end or the New Regime will inherit the public mandate soon enough to reverse the decline. One way or another, America as we know it is ending. The only question is what comes next: catastrophe or revival?

We direct our colleagues’ attention toward a number of notable developments which took place, following our initial revelation of the New Regime. The first of these is the former British Prime Minister Tony Blair’s public admission that “We are coming to the end of Western political and economic dominance.”

Secondly, NATO’s expressed ambition to increase the size of this force from 40,000 to 300,000 troops was met with public derision by many government officials. Even members of secretary general Stoltenberg’s own staff were taken by surprise.

Thirdly, former US Secretary of State Henry Kissinger confessed to America’s culpability. According to him, “[America is] at the edge of war with Russia and China on issues which [it] partly created”. The Ukrainian people deserve to know that they are being helped by the provocateurs who knowingly contributed to this state of affairs, and that the Ukrainian government, including President Zelensky, has turned a blind eye to American treason.

Lastly, and most importantly, the Nobility International Dollar Agency (NIDA) announced that the Nobility International Blockchain (NIB) is “now a reality and finally ready for its first round of testing.” The NIB is the world’s first multi-chain and the backbone of the Nobility’s financial, economic, and monetary infrastructure. Our door remains open to international trade and cooperation for all law-abiding nations, corporations, and investors.

Thus, we consider it necessary to elaborate on the elite asylum program. A resolution is in the works at the Subcommittee of Security and, as such, there are finer details which remain to be determined. Nevertheless, we can speak to the main points of the program.

The Open-Source Intelligence Consortium (OSIC) of investigative journalists is actively collecting the names, faces, and deeds of all members of the Washington establishment who are accomplices to the killing of Ukrainians, those who are directly involved in the medical malpractice of chemically sterilizing and sexually mutilating prepubescent children, as well as the systematic sexualization of children in the U.S. education system; those who are involved in spreading pervert apologism, anti-European disinformation, and aristophobia are included in that list. OSIC is also collecting intelligence on all associates of such persons. Collectively, these include (but are not limited to) military generals, Hollywood directors, lobbyists, academics, industrialists, politicians, relevant members of the press, and key individuals within the International Psychoanalytical Association, the American Psychiatric Association, and the American Medical Association.

An anti-treason and anti-pervert Inquisition is coming. Traitors and perverts will have to explain themselves in the court of public opinion. The world will be made to see their names, faces, and what they have done. Under the New Regime's administration, these individuals will also have to explain themselves in a court of law.

Our elite asylum is a safe heaven for the more ethical members of the Washington establishment. There is a way forward for them which involves the preservation of social status, luxurious lifestyles, and comfort. Those brave members of the Washington establishment who disavow American traitors and perverts, and who cooperate with OSIC will no longer be regarded as accomplices. Instead, they will be hailed as heroic patriots who had the foresight and moral fortitude to defend Europe, to defend children, and to stand on the right side of history with the New Regime. We reiterate our promise to OSIC informants: "we will keep you safe and comfortable".

In line with that promise, the safeguarding of informant reputations via OSIC's RepSec capabilities is only half of that equation. The other half is to mitigate or offset, as much as possible, any financial consequences which may arise. As an issuer of currency, NIDA is perfectly capable of delivering on the financial half of that promise via preferential and priority access to capital.

To our European colleagues, the following bears repeating: "Whether you wish to remain on the Titanic or not is entirely up to you." European elites will not be immune from the consequences of being an accomplice to these crimes. Our promise of protection applies to you, as well. Informants will be protected.

We will let our colleagues and members of the Washington establishment decide for themselves what the safer option is.
